

Bethlem Art Fair 2023

Callout for artwork

Bethlem Gallery invites artists, patients, service users, carers and loved ones, staff and volunteers connected to the South London and Maudsley NHS Foundation Trust to contribute up to 3 artworks to the Bethlem Art Fair 2023 that will be open from 25th November 2023 – 27th January 2024.

Works will be displayed at Bethlem Gallery, as well as on our social media channels.

- All creative media welcome: ceramics, sculpture, textiles, painting, drawing, photography, prints.
- All artworks must be unframed.
- Maximum size is A2.
- All artworks are for sale.
- The maximum price for 1 artwork is £250.
- Prices can include a voluntary 15% gallery commission that helps us with the costs of putting on the art fair.
- Each artist will have at least 1 artwork on display in the gallery space.
- Artists are responsible for transporting their work to and from the gallery.
- Artists must be 18 years old or older.

How do I get my artworks to the gallery?

You can deliver or post your artworks to us using the address on the last page of this call out to reach us any time between 1 September and 14 October 2023.

Please let gallery.assistant@bethlemgallery.com know that you have sent works by post so that we can look out for them.

If you are unable to get to a post office or visit the gallery, please contact us and we might be able to arrange a collection for you.

Founders Awards

Every year Bethlem Gallery runs the Founders Awards that aim to recognise the work of some of the most exciting new artists to join the gallery. We will invite a special guest working in the contemporary art field to come and select the 2 new artists. They will each receive £100 to spend on art materials. Only artists who have used the services of South London and Maudsley NHS Foundation Trust are eligible to be considered for the Founders Award. By sending artwork to us for the fair, you will be automatically entered for consideration. We will also award commendations.

Theme

This year you are invited to submit works – if you would like to – in response to a set theme. The theme is 'surface', inspired by the upcoming Keith Clapson exhibition 'Touching the Surface'. All themed entries will be automatically entered into consideration for the themed award. We will award 1 artist £100 in materials. We will also award commendations. The theme is optional and not all art entries have to fit this theme.

Support in submitting or pricing your work

We have slots available for 1:1 advice sessions if needed on Fridays. These will be allocated on a first come, first served basis and can be by phone or in person.

Giving consent to share images of your artwork online

- I give my consent to Bethlem Gallery to share images of the artwork I submit for the Bethlem Art Fair 2023 online. I understand that online includes: the Bethlem Gallery website, Twitter, Instagram, Facebook, Shopify, and our partners' websites.
- The images will be used to promote my artwork and encourage other people to enjoy, 'like' and respond to what they see.
- I understand that the general public worldwide may see the image/s.
- If I feature in the image myself, by completing this form I am agreeing for images of myself to be shared online.
- I grant The Bethlem Gallery a non-exclusive worldwide licence* to use images of my artwork to illustrate the title(s) mentioned above and that these images will be kept on an online archive. I will retain the copyright of the artwork and be credited for its creation.
- Not giving consent will in no way affect my clinical care or housing.

Changing your mind

It's really important that we know if you change your mind. If you don't tell us, we'll think your choices remain the same. If you tell us, we will stop sharing your images online but we won't be able to remove images we have shared in the past.

 What is a non-exclusive worldwide license?

By completing this form you are licensing or giving permission to Bethlem Gallery to use one of your artworks through a non-exclusive agreement, this is what happens:

- You are the licensor.*
- You give the licensee (i.e. a gallery) the right to share your artwork with a third-party (i.e. the public).*
- You can sign another non-exclusive agreement with another licensee to share or sell your artwork to other third parties.*

Bethlem Gallery Terms & Conditions:

Why we collect your data

We want to give you the best possible experience with Bethlem Gallery. For example, the data we hold about you helps us personalise our recommendations for events and exhibitions.

When we'll share your data

We'll sometimes share data with third parties to help us provide a better service for you. Some examples might be giving your address to a courier to deliver your purchases, or a company supplying a service guarantee.

Know your rights

You have many rights regarding your personal data, including seeing what data we access, and updating your information, if you'd like to find out more, do take a look at our Privacy Policy or visit our website www.bethlemgallery.com at any time.

Bethlem Gallery will not be responsible for loss or damage to any artwork submitted to us. Whilst we will do our best to ensure the safe handling of your artwork, artists exhibit at their own risk. We will inform you immediately if the artwork is damaged, lost or stolen during the exhibition or the storage period. You as the artist are responsible for transporting the works to and from the Gallery.

I understand that, if I receive benefits, any earnings I receive from selling my work may affect my benefits and I should declare all earnings to my Benefits Officer.

I have read and agree to the terms and conditions.
